PHILADELPHIA: HISTORY, HIGHLIGHTS AND REVOLUTION

Discover Philadelphia history beyond what the textbooks tell you! View the most iconic historical sites of Independence National Historical Park, admire beautiful architecture, and absorb the rich historical significance of the American Revolutionary War.

During our historic Philadelphia walking tour, we'll pass by Independence Hall, where the Declaration of Independence and the US Constitution were created. You will also view the iconic Liberty Bell, one of the most recognizable symbols of American freedom.

You'll feel transported back in time as you stroll down Elfreth's Alley, the nation's oldest continuously inhabited residential street. Take a memorable picture at the home of Betsy Ross, the famed upholsterer who is credited with creating the first American flag. Pay respects to Benjamin Franklin as you pass by his burial site.

We'll make our way up the steps and into the recreated site of the President's House, where you'll learn not only about the lives of the two leaders who lived here, but the often untold stories of individuals who had their own key roles to play in the founding of our nation.

Our tour includes a special presentation at the Museum of the American Revolution that features the tent that George Washington lived in during the war. You will also receive discounted admission into the museum that you can redeem after the tour.
